QUESTIONS PRESENTED

QUESTION 1.

Whether the Fifth Circuit's "novel" conclusion that the assets of a limited partnership that did not file for bankruptcy are assets of the individual Debtor partner bankruptcy estate, conflicts with, the Seventh Circuit decision in Matter of Pentell, 777 F.2d 1281 (7th Cir. 1985), further with the decisions rendered in In re Olszewiski, 124 B.R. 743 (Bkrtcy.S.D. Ohio 1991), In re Magnani, 223 B.R. 177 (Bkrtcy. N.D. Iowa 1997), In re Minton Group, Inc., 46 B.R. 222 (D.C. 1985), In re Dreske, 25 B.R. 268 (E.D. Wis. 1982) and In re Funneman, 155 B.R. 197 (Bkrtcy.S.D.Ill. 1993), and with 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1), the Uniform Partnership Act, and with Tex. Civ. Rem. Stat. Ann. 6132a-1 § 7.01?

QUESTION 2.

Whether the Fifth Circuit's conclusion that a bankruptcy trustee succeeds to a larger interest than the one held by the Debtor at the commencement of the case, conflicts with 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1) and amounts to both bad law and bad policy?

QUESTION 3.

Whether the Fifth Circuit Court's conclusion to ignore the mandatory guarantees of the "Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940", 50 U.S.C. App., Sec. 521, when citizens are called to active duty to serve the Country and therefore give no consideration to the absentee party, conflicts with the act and constitutes an abuse of discretion and a clear departure from well-established judicial principles in our jurisprudence?

QUESTION 4.

Whether the Fifth Circuit's conclusion that procedural law which entails substantive law needs not to be observed in bankruptcy proceedings, conflicts with the Due Process clause of the Constitution of the United States, further with F.R.B.P. 7019; 9006(f) and with the District of Columbia Circuit's decision in CNPq-Conselho National v. Inter-Trade, Inc., 50 F.3d 56 (D.C. Cir. 1995), with the Ninth Circuit decision in Tushner v. U.S. District Court for Cent. Dist. Of Cal., 829 F.2d 853 (9th Cir. 1987) and with the Seventh Circuit decision in Lerro v. Quaker Oats Co., 84 F.3d 239 (7th Cir. 1996) and amounts to both bad policy and bad law?

A. This is an appropriate case in which to grant the writ in order to correct the conflict between the well-established principle of law of the Seventh Circuit, other Circuits and the Uniform Partnership Act, and the Fifth Circuit's erroneous and dangerous conclusion that assets of a limited partnership that did not file for bankruptcy are assets of the individual debtor partner bankruptcy estate	10

This is an appropriate case in which to grant the writ because it involves an important question of Federal Bankruptcy Law – the extent to which the assets of a limited partnership and corporations that did not file for bankruptcy become assets of the bankruptcy estate of the individual debtor partner	13

PETITION FOR WRIT OF CERTIORARI

Petitioners Jorge A. Lentino, M.D. and Eduardo P. Lentino, M.D. respectfully request that the Court grant the Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit.

ORDERS BELOW

Petitioners' Appendices provide the pertinent Orders.

JURISDICTION

Jurisdiction exists under 28 U.S.C. § 1254.

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY PROVISIONS INVOLVED

Petitioners' Appendices provide the pertinent Sections of the United States Code and Statutory Provisions Involved.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit entered its judgment order without rendering an opinion on November 27, 1998.

Petitioners are Debtors in Bankruptcy. On appeal from several orders entered by the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas, which were later consolidated into one appeal, the District Court for the Southern District of Texas withdrew the reference of the jointly administered bankruptcies[1]. Petitioners had filed for

[1] The financial reverses leading to Debtors' Lentino filing of bankruptcy stem primarily from an investment made by Debtors in a local Bank called Petrobank N.A. financing was provided by a local Bank, called Cullen Center Bank and Trust, which is today Frost National Bank by merger. The Original loan was for 12 years but at renewal the bank reneged and obligated the Debtors to assume the Debt of all of the shareholders without receiving any consideration whatsoever, in order to grant the renewal of their approximately $150,000 notes. The Bank sued the Debtors and after obtaining a liquidated judgment, in 1990, for the alleged balance owed on the actual amount individually borrowed by the Debtors in 1982 (which did not include the credits owned to the debtors for the collateral pledged to the bank), sued them again in 1991 for the alleged amount due on the debt of all of the shareholders of Petrobank N.A., (which collective debt was rolled over into a master note in 1984), and obtained a multi-million dollar judgment individually against each Debtor but not against the Corporations, Trusts and Partnership, which were not-suited prior to trial. See Appendix for Opinion of Court of Appeals for the 14th District. This usurious judgment pushed the two Debtors into Bankruptcy. Post-judgment the bank proceeded to collect on the unsuperseded judgment, moved for the appointment of a Receiver and seized all of Debtors' businesses and Corporations, even though they were not judgment Debtors, and after judicially admitting to such. The Chapter 7 Trustee substituted parties for the Debtors and joined non-Debtor Marta A. Lentino in the appeal of this usurious judgment to the Court of Appeals for the 14th District, Houston Texas adopting the six points of errors presented to the Court of appeal prior to the filing of bankruptcy by the two Debtors Lentino. (94-45735 Doc. 85 pp. 1-7, Doc. 90 pp. 1-2, Doc. 97 pp. 1-4, Doc. 104). See Lentino v. Cullen Center Bank and Trust, 919 S.W. 2d 743 (Tex.App – Houston [14th Dist.] 1996, writ denied).

individual bankruptcy, however the stock of several corporations and their assets, which ownership was under a duly formed Texas Family Limited Partnership, were sold by the Chapter 7 Bankruptcy Trustee, without warranty, to ProCare of Houston L.L.C. prior to the date prescribed by the Scheduling Order issued by the Bankruptcy Court for the Adversary Proceeding, to determine what interest

The Court of Appeals for the 14th District reversed the multi-million dollar judgment before the Bankruptcy Court had authorized the sale of the assets and the stock of various corporations whose ownership was under the Lentino Family Limited Partnership. The Chapter 7 Trustee had also substituted the Debtors Lentino and had joined non-Debtor Marta A. Lentino on a Petition for Writ of Error to the Supreme Court of Texas. (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 131 pp. 54-62; 94-45735 Doc. 141 pp. 164-172) The Chapter 7 Trustee relied therein in Matthiessen v. Schaefer, 915 S.W. 2d 479 (Tex. 1995) (per curiam), Ennis v. Smith, 883 S.W.2d 662, 663 (Tex. 1994) and Cf. Puerto Rico Dep't of Consumer Affairs v. Isla Petroleum Corp., 485 U.S. 495 (1988) (Scalia J.) (there cannot be a "preemptive grin without a statutory cat") and on Angelo Broadcasting v. Satellite Music, 836 S.W.2d 726 (Tex. App. – Dallas 1992, writ denied) and ITT Commercial Finance Corp. v. Riehn, 796 S.W. 2d 248 (Tex. App. – Dallas 1990, no writ). The cases relied upon by the Trustee stand for the proposition that without an underlying recovery there can be no turnover relief. The Supreme Court upheld the reversal of the multi-million dollar judgment. Therefore the 14th Court of Appeals issued its Mandate and reversed the lower court final judgment. Petitioners raised on appeal to the Fifth Circuit Court the well-established principle of law of judicial estoppel, which protects the courts by precluding parties from assuming a position in a legal proceeding that contradicts or is inconsistent with a position it has successfully asserted in a past proceeding, relying there in Delgrosso v. Spang & Co., 903 F.2d 234, 241 (3rd Cir. 1990), cert. denied, 498 U.S. 967, 111 S.Ct.428, 112 L.Ed.2d 412 (1990), and Murray v. Silberstein, 882 F.2d 61 (3rd Cir. 1989).

"if any", the individual Bankruptcy Estates of the Debtors had in the Corporations, Partnership and Trusts. These entities did not file for bankruptcy. The Bankruptcy Court breached its own scheduling order and stated that it was not going to try the issue of ownership in connection to a Motion to Sell, because those matters were going to be heard in the Adversary Proceeding which was scheduled for several months after the sale took place. Despite the language of the Texas Limited Partnership, and the statutory provisions regulating same, and of the Texas Living Trusts,[2] which are spendthrift Trusts, and whose

[2] The Chapter 7 Trustee, based on a turnover order issued by the state court post-judgment (on 06-08-94) when the judgment could not be superseded and after learning of the reversal of the multi-million dollar judgment by the 14th Court of Appeals, wherein he adopted the two Debtors Petitioner's and non-debtor Marta A. Lentino's legal position, prior to the development of the Adversary proceeding to see what interest "if any" the estates had in the partnership, trusts and corporations, that it was proposing to sell, the Bankruptcy Court entered its order selling the assets of the partnership and various corporations, without warranty, and without joining the necessary parties for just adjudication, over objections. It should be mentioned here that the Chapter 7 Trustee had attempted to sell the assets of the partnership and corporations previously with warranty of title and the Bankruptcy Court had denied such request. (94-45735 Doc. 122, Doc. 133, Doc. 141, Doc. 163; 94-45736 Doc. 87, Doc. 100).

The two living trusts, the E.L. and J.L. York Plaza Living Trusts were created in 1986 and recorded of Public Record at the time (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 27 Plaintiff's Trial Exhibits "A1", "A2", "A3", "A4", "A5", "A6",) They contained a spendthrift clause. The beneficiaries of the two Trusts are the Lentino children (two of them minors), and Marta A. Lentino, the spouse of Debtor Eduardo Lentino, under the Marital Trust "A". Debtor Jorge A. Lentino's spouse is deceased. None of these beneficiaries had filed for bankruptcy, therefore there was no concern and/or legal issue to be raised regarding any alienation of interest by the beneficiary in violation of the spendthrift provision. Additionally 11 U.S.C. § 541(C)(2) excludes "spendthrift trusts" from the bankruptcy estate if such trust protects the beneficiary from creditors under applicable state law. In the present case none of the beneficiaries under the spendthrift trust had filed for bankruptcy. None of these beneficiaries parties and/or the trustee of the trusts Maria Raquel Lentino were joined as necessary parties in the adversary proceeding filed by the Chapter 7 Trustee. Petitioners had raised this issue on Appeal to the Fifth Circuit Court, relying therein in Sniadach v. Family Finance Corporation of Bay View, 395 U.S. 337, 89 S.Ct. 1820 (1969) and North Georgia Finishing, Inc. v. Di-Chem, Inc., 419 U.S. 601, 95 S.Ct. 719 (1975) and F.R.B.P. 7019. In its inception the Debtors were the trustee of each others' trust. Debtors Lentino resigned to that position in 1993, a year prior to the filing of bankruptcy, (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 27 Plaintiff's Trial Exhibits "E4", "E5") and the successor Trustee Maria Raquel Lentino already designated in the Trust document since 1986 assumed that position. At the time of the creation of the trusts the stock of several corporations was gifted to the remainder beneficiaries of the two trusts (the children of the Lentino Debtors/Petitioners) into the Trust, and appropriate Gift Tax was paid to the Internal Revenue Service (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 27 Plaintiff's Trial Exhibits "A5" and "A6"). The funds for the purchase of the stock was provided by the Debtors' father, a thoracic surgeon.

The Lentino Family Limited Partnership was created in 1988, six years prior to the debtors partners filing of the petition for relief in bankruptcy and properly recorded with the Secretary of the State of Texas at that time (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 27 Plaintiff's Trial Exhibit "C1", "C2"). The two Debtors Lentino held 1% general partnership interest. On or about 1988 the two living trust (E.L. York Plaza Living Trust and J.L. York Plaza Living Trust) decided to invest in the partnership and exchanged the stock which they held of several corporations copies of the stock certificates bearing title in such partnership, the District Court for the Southern District of Texas concluded, over objections, and without joining the necessary parties for just adjudication, as required by law, that all the legal and equitable interest of several corporations, Trusts and Partnership rested with the Debtors and therefore were part of the bankruptcy estates. Consequently, the District Court granted clear into the Lentino Family Limited Partnership in exchange for a 49% limited partnership interest each. (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 27 Plaintiff's Trial Exhibits "C3", "C4") The Chapter 7 Trustee sold the assets of the corporations together with the stock that was under the Partnership, over objections, without warranty to ProCare of Houston L.L.C. the District Court for the Southern District of Texas gave clear title to ProCare of Houston L.L.C.

One of the corporations (See Chart in Appendix), Plaza Life and Energy Co. Inc., which was the holding corporation of Hospital Associates International Inc. (which corporation owned the stock of the 83 bed Hospital that the Chapter 7 Trustee sold, the Hospital Corporation with all of its assets) had other shareholders in it, Charles and Ashraf Veldekens and Veldekens Inc., who were the minority shareholders, holding over 47% stock ownership of such corporation. These minority shareholders had intervened in the bankruptcy proceedings of the Debtors Lentino to Protect their rights ((94-45736 Doc. 130 p. 121 L. 21-25, p. 128 L. 17-25, p. 129 L. 6-15; Doc. 129 p. 105 L. 12-16). These parties were not in bankruptcy neither was this corporation or any corporation sold by the Chapter 7 Trustee. Hospital Associates International was incorporated in 1978 and in good standing with the Secretary of the State of Texas at the time of Debtors filing their petition for relief, as well as York Plaza Hospital and Medical Center Inc., Plaza Life and Energy Inc., Baires Inc., York Plaza Real Estate Inc., Lentino Surgical Associates, Inc., P.A. Plaza Interpretation P.A. (which had other physicians involved in said Corporation), Plaza Ct. Ltd. (had also two other individuals in the partnership, who were not in bankruptcy) (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 27 Plaintiff's Trial Exhibit "B1").

title of the Corporations, Trusts and Partnership, which did not file for Bankruptcy, to ProCare of Houston, L.L.C., together with personal defenses.

Debtor Jorge A. Lentino, a full Colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve, had been mobilized to active duty for a period of 270 days to serve in "Operation Joint Endevour", as a general surgeon, in the U.S. Army Medical Corps and had been deployed to Europe.[3] While on active duty, Debtor Lentino received the good news that the judgment which had rendered him insolvent and [3] Debtor Jorge A. Lentino received his Orders to serve in Active Duty in the United States Armed Forces for a period not to exceed 270 days from the entrance in actual Active Duty, and which period is enlarged for an additional 90 days being detachment processing period from active duty. The Bankruptcy Court did not stop the proceedings in spite that Debtor Lentinos' rights as a litigant were materially affected and did not give Debtor Lentino any consideration of being absent proudly serving his county (94-45735 Doc. 152). On the contrary, the facts of this case clearly reflected by the record shows that the Bankruptcy Court was in a hurry to liquidate the assets whether it belonged to the Bankruptcy estates of the Debtors or not. Trustee had moved immediately four days after the Debtors move for conversion to Chapter 11 to reconvert them regardless what the Plan of Reorganization proposed. The record also indicates that the Bankruptcy Estates were solvent and the Bankruptcy Court made its own calculation that it could pay the debts in four years (94-45736 Doc. 130 p. 210 L. 17, Doc. 129 p. 46 L. 1 – p. 54 L. 12). Other Creditors objected to the reconversion (94-45735 Doc. 219 p. 88 L. 1 – p. 90 L. 2; 94-45736 Doc. 130 p. 210 L. 13-14) however, it proceeding to reconvert to the Debtors in spite of their adoption of the Plan of Reorganization on file (94-45735 Doc. 166 pp. 1-107).

The Fifth Circuit Court without addressing the legal issues raised by Debtors Lentino, affirmed the orders entered by the District Court for the Southern District of Texas.

pushed him into bankruptcy had been reversed. Debtor Lentino proceeded voluntarily to convert from Chapter 7 to Chapter 11 Reorganization. The Bankruptcy Court had a copy of the Orders to active duty of the U.S. Army and was therefore aware of the duty that Debtor Lentino was serving in the Military, however, gave no consideration to the situation and it did not allow Debtor Lentino an opportunity to even amend the plan of reorganization that it had adopted, it gave Debtor Lentino only one week after the entrance of the order to file a Plan of Reorganization and immediately reconverted Debtor Lentino to Chapter 7 and sold, over objections, without warranty, all the assets of Corporations, Trusts and Partnership, including personal defenses to ProCare of Houston, L.L.C.

Further, the District Court for the Southern District of Texas authorized the Chapter 7 Trustee's application to retain special Counsel to represent Trustee in the state court litigation, on the recently reversed and remanded case, prior to the expiration of time ordered by the same District Court to file responses and objections and over Debtors' timely filed objections regarding the conflict of interest that existed with the counsel that trustee was proposing to hire, and the abandonment of the clients by the previous trial attorney that trustee was also proposing to hire, who had accepted a federal judgeship position out of town. The Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas had previously dismissed this same Chapter 7 Trustee application with prejudice.[4]

[4] The Trustee proposed to hire for over a 50% contingency fee the prior attorneys of the Debtors the first of which had abandoned the Debtors and had accepted a judgeship position

The Fifth Circuit affirmed the orders of the district court for the Southern District of Texas.

The Fifth Circuit conclusion is dangerous and is both bad law and bad policy, in regards to the assets of the partnership being assets of the individual debtor partner bankruptcy estate and is in direct conflict with the Seventh Circuit decision in Matter of Pentell, 777 F.2d 1281 (7th Cir. 1985), other circuits, the Uniform Partnership Act, Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. Ann. 6132a-1 § 7.01, and with 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1).

The Fifth Circuit conclusion further conflicts with the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, 50 U.S.C. App., Sec. 521 and the decision rendered in Parker v. Parker, 63 S.E.2d 366 (1951).

out of town, and the appellate attorney which previously represented the two Debtors, on appeal of the lower Court judgment and the Corporations, Trusts and partnership in post-judgment and turnover proceedings, as separate entities. Due to the abandonment of the client by the previous attorney after accepting such judgeship position, which was also objected by the Chapter 7 Trustee (94-45735 Doc. 289 p. 2; Doc. 290 p. 2; 94-45735 Doc. 202 p. 2, Doc. 203 p. 2), and the conflict existing with the appellate attorney who had previously represented the Trusts, Partnership and Corporations as separate entities, Debtors Lentino had objected to such employment of counsel, on the proposed terms (94-45735 Doc. 271, 272, 273; 97-CV-498 Doc. 79, Doc. 80, Doc. 81, Doc. 82). The Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas denied the Chapter 7 Trustee's application with prejudice (H 97-CV0498 Doc. 142 pp. 78-81; 94-45735 Doc. 283) on the terms presented and the District Court for the Southern District of Texas approved on original proceeding the same application with a larger percentage to the counsels.

Further, the Fifth Circuit conclusion is also bad law and bad policy because it violates the Due Process clause of the Constitution of the United States by not granting Due Process and by affirming the denial of same.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE WRIT

A. This is an appropriate case in which to grant the writ in order to correct the conflict between the well-established principle of law of the Seventh Circuit, other Circuits and the Uniform Partnership Act, and the Fifth Circuit's erroneous and dangerous conclusion that assets of a limited partnership that did not file for bankruptcy are assets of the individual debtor partner bankruptcy estate.

According to the Fifth Circuit, "[t]he novel issue presented here is whether a bankruptcy estate trustee succeeds to a larger interest, than the one held by the Debtor as of the commencement of the case." This issue is indeed "novel". Petitioners are unaware of any other court that has considered the matter as anything other than well-settled that "A partner has no interest in specific limited partnership property". Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. Ann. 6132a-1, section 7.01. The Bankruptcy Courts have recognized that a bankruptcy trustee has no right to the assets of the partnership because such are not assets of the bankruptcy estates. In re Pentell, 777 F.2d 1281 (7th Cir. 1985) the Seventh Circuit concluded that it lacked subject matter jurisdiction over the assets of the partnership even though Debtor Christopher Pentell was the general partner and owned 30% interest in the partnership. In this case the record showed that Debtors Lentino held a 1%

General partnership interest each in the Lentino Family Limited Partnership at the commencement of the case and the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas as well as the District Court for the Southern District of Texas, Houston Division, should have recognized that it lacked subject matter jurisdiction over the individual limited partnership assets, e.g., the corporations. Pentell, supra at 1285. In re Magnani, 223 B.R. 177 (Bkrtcy.N.D. Iowa 1997) the Court reached the same rationale that the partnership assets were not property of the Debtor's estate. Magnani, supra at 178. The Court further stated that for bankruptcy purposes the partnership is distinct legal entity separate from its partners. Magnani, supra at 178 and that a debtor's interest in property are determined by reference to state law citing Johnson v. First National Bank of Montevideo, 719 F.2d 270, 273-74 (8th Cir. 1983), cert. denied, 465 U.S. 1012, 104 S.Ct. 1015, 79 L.Ed.2d 245 (1984).

In In re Funneman, 155 B.R. 197 (Bkrtcy S.D. Ill. 1993), the Illinois Court concluded that assets of partnership could not be administered in bankruptcy case of member partner Funneman, supra at 198. The Funneman Court further stated that the bankruptcy statute authorizing trustee to sell property free and clear of any interest in property of entity other than estate, authorized trustee to sell only debtor-partner's personal property interest in partnership and not property of the partnership itself quoting 11 U.S.C § 363(f), Funneman, at 198. The Funneman Court also stated that consistent with the entity theory of partnerships embodied in the Uniform Partnership Act, the Bankruptcy Code accords a partnership a status of a "person", 11 U.S.C. § 101(41), and treats it as a separate legal entity distinct from the partners who create it, citing In re Olszewski, 124 B.R. at 746 and In re Dreske, 25 B.R. 268, 270 and concluded that as a result it is well settled that assets owned by a partnership are not included in the bankruptcy estate of an individual partner citing In re Minton Group, Inc., 46 B.R. at 226 and Turner v. Central Nat'l Bank of Mattoon, Illinois, 468 F.2d 590, 591 (7th Cir. 1972).

Under the Lentino Family Limited Partnership the two Debtors Lentino held 1% general partnership interest each and the E.L. and the J.L. York Plaza Living Trusts are the limited partners, which did not file for bankruptcy, holding 49% limited partnership interest each. The chapter 7 trustee by law cannot succeed to a larger interest than the Debtor partner had at the commencement of the case, which is no interest in specific limited partnership property, and cannot as he did in this case proceed to liquidate the limited partnership assets, which included an 83 bed Hospital with the accounts receivables, the land, the building and the equipment and several corporations some of them medical professional associations, which had invested in real estate, with their assets and or administer as he did those assets.

Because the Fifth Circuit incorrectly determined an issue that should never arise, it had to acknowledge a lack of authority for its conclusion that the assets of a limited partnership are assets of the individual debtor partner bankruptcy estate. The Fifth Circuit did not issue an opinion stating its rationale supporting its clear departure from the well-established law principles.

The trusts having transferred the stock in 1988 (six years prior to the Debtors' commencement of the case in bankruptcy) to the Lentino Family Limited Partnership no longer held title to the shares of stock, therefore the conclusion of the Fifth Circuit to merge the legal and equitable interest of the assets into the Debtors was clearly erroneous because as a matter of law a partner has no interest in specific limited partnership property since the general partners' interest in a partnership is only personal property. Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. Ann. 6132a-1 § 7.01.

Because of the need for careful long-term planning, certainty and stability are essential in this area of the law. Rather than promoting stability, the Fifth Circuit decision is dangerous, creates confusion, uncertainty, and most important a split in authority with the Seventh Circuit, other Circuits, the Uniform Partnership Act, Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. 6132a-1 § 7.01 and 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1).

Consequently, the Fifth Circuit's renegade ruling is especially dangerous, the Fifth Circuit acted as a legislative body rather than a judicial one, which primary concern should have been to apply the law to the facts. Petitioners respectfully request that this Court grant the writ, reverse the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, the District Court for the Southern District of Texas, and the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas.

B. This is an appropriate case in which to grant the writ because it involves an important question of Federal Bankruptcy Law – the extent to which the assets of a limited partnership and corporations that did not file for bankruptcy become assets of the bankruptcy estate of the individual debtor partner.

The panel's "novel" conclusion that assets of corporations who did not file for bankruptcy can be encompassed in the Debtors' individual bankruptcy estates is indeed a "novel".

As a matter of federal statute, property of the estate is comprised of "all legal or equitable interest of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case, 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1). A debtor's interests in property are determined by reference to state law. Johnson v. First National Bank of Montevideo, 719 F.2d 270, 273-274 (8th Cir. 1983), cert. denied, 465 U.S. 1012, 104 S.Ct. 1015, 79 L.Ed.2d 245 (1984).

Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. Ann. 6132a-1 § 7.01 specifically states that "A partner has no interest in specific limited partnership property," e.g., the corporations.

The corporations are separate judicial entities 11 U.S.C. § 101(41), who had behaved as such and nothing in the record indicates that the corporations had filed a petition for relief in bankruptcy, but rather that the individual debtor partners had. (94-45735 Doc. 1; 94-45736 Doc. 1). The Chapter 7 Trustee by law can not encompass these parties who did not file for bankruptcy whose ownership rest with the Lentino Family Limited Partnership (94-45735 Doc. 133, Doc. 141; 97-CV-498 Doc. 27 Plaintiff's Exhibits "C1", "C2", "C3", "C4", 96-4795 Doc. 6, Doc. 7, Doc. 8, Doc. 9, Doc. 10, Doc. 11) in these two individual bankruptcy estates of the Debtors partners. Both the Bankruptcy Court and the District Court lacked subject matter jurisdiction over these assets.

Because the Fifth Circuit renegade ruling is especially dangerous and its conclusion unfortunate it further violates the Due Process Clause of the Constitution of the United States, Petitioners respectfully request that this Court grant the writ, reverse the Fifth Circuit and reverse the District Court for the Southern District of Texas and the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas.

C. This is an appropriate case in which to grant the writ in order to correct the conflict between the well-established mandatory guarantees of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, 50 U.S.C. App., Sec. 521 and the lack of consideration of such given by the Federal Bankruptcy Court.

Petitioner Jorge A. Lentino, M.D., who is a general surgeon and a Colonel in the Active reserve of the U.S. Army, had been called to active duty and deployed to Europe as part of the U.S. Army operation "Joint Endevour". The Bankruptcy Court did not take into consideration that Debtor Lentino being absent by law had the right to be allowed to amend and/or supplement the Plan of Reorganization that he had adopted (94-45736 Doc. 107; 94-45735 Doc. 175, 94-45735 Doc. 152, Doc. 166 pp. 1-107). The Bankruptcy Court decision to promptly reconvert Petitioner to Chapter 7, despite the solvency of the estates and the bankruptcy court's own calculation that the debts could be paid up in four years (94-45736 Doc. 130 p. 210 L. 17, Doc. 129 p. 46 L. 1 – p. 54 L. 12), and even though debtors and creditors objected (94-45735 Doc. 225, Doc. 219 p. 88 L. 1 – p. 90 L. 2; 94-45736 Doc. 130 p. 210 L. 13-14, 94-45735 Doc. 227, Doc. 229) and to promptly sell the assets of which the same court acknowledged it had its doubts whether it belonged to the bankruptcy estates of the two Debtors or not presents a conflict with the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, 50 U.S.C. App., Sec. 521 and creates a dangerous and unfortunate precedent in our jurisprudence and a split in authority, therefore amounting to both bad law and bad policy. Petitioners respectfully request that this Court grant the writ, reverse the Fifth Circuit, the District Court for the Southern District of Texas and the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas).

D. This is further an appropriate case in which to grant the writ because it involves an important question of Federal Bankruptcy Law – the extent to which Procedural Law which entails substantive law need not to be observed in bankruptcy proceedings in breach of the Court's own orders.

The Fifth Circuit in a misguided attempt to do equity did not consider the legal issues raised by Petitioner. The Bankruptcy Court had sold the assets of all corporations trusts and partnerships in breach of its own scheduling order, (96-4795 Doc. 2) further lacking subject matter jurisdiction over those assets, without joining any necessary parties as required by law for just adjudication, and took property without the due process required by law.

The Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas' rationale was that it was not going to try ownership title in regards to a Motion to Sell, despite the objections raised (94-45735 Doc. 249 p. 13 L. 4-7; Doc. 196; 96-4795 Doc. 2 p. 1). The decision creates a dangerous precedent and produced results that no right-thinking person would tolerate; conflicting with the due process clause of the Constitution of the U.S. and with F.R.B.P. 7019 which applies in adversary proceedings and requires the joinder of parties for just adjudication.

The District Court for the Southern District of Texas, on original proceeding, authorized the appointment of special counsels for the Chapter 7 Trustee to represent the bankruptcy estates and Trustee on the state court litigation entering its order prior to the expiration of the time prescribed by the same District Court to file responses and objections (regarding the conflict of interest that existed with one attorney and the abandonment of the clients by the other attorney), (H 97-CV-498 Doc. 75 p. 1, Doc. 79, Doc. 155 p. 10 L. 4-11, Doc. 80, Doc. 81, Doc. 82; 94-45735 Doc. 271, 272, 273, 274), over timely filed objections without a hearing to address such. Conflicting with the decisions rendered on CNPq-Conselho National v. Inter-Trade, Inc., 50 F.3d 56 (D.C. Cir. 1995), Tushner v. U.S. District Court for Cent. Dist. Of Cal., 829 F.2d 853 (9th Cir. 1987), and Lerro v. Quaker Oats Co., 84 F.3d 239 (7th Cir. 1996) which are cases that stand for the proposition that when there is a right or requirement to do some act or undertake some proceedings within a prescribed period after service of a notice or other paper and the notice or paper other than process is served by mail, three days shall be added to the prescribed period. See F.R.B.P. 9006(f).

CONCLUSION

The Fifth Circuit's "novel" conclusion that assets of a limited partnership are assets of the individual debtor partner bankruptcy estate is dangerous and injects uncertainty and confusion into an area of the law which is regulated by statute and in which certainty and stability are critical. The Fifth Circuit decision is also bad policy because it ignores fundamental mandatory guarantees provided by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Act of 1940 and produced unfortunate results. The Fifth Circuit decision is also bad law and bad policy because it neglects procedural due process which entails substantive law. There are no legal or equitable doctrines or common law or bankruptcy policies which could justify the confiscation that took place, much less this draconian result in these facts. For this reason, Petitioners ask the court to grant writ of certiorari, reverse the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, the District Court for the Southern District of Texas and the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas.

(H-97-CV-498, H-97-CV-1155 & H-97-CV-2130)

Before EMILIO M. GARZA, DeMOSS, and BENAVIDES, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Appellants, Eduardo P. Lentino ("E. Lentino"), Jorge A. Lentino ("J. Lentino"), and Marta A. Lentino ("M. Lentino") appeal various orders and judgments entered by the district court relating to estate assets and the administration of E. Lentino and J. Lentino's respective Chapter 7 and Chapter 11 bankruptcy estates. Appellant, Dov Avni Kaminetzky ("Kaminetzky") also appeals various district court judgments. After reviewing the record and the arguments of the parties, we find no abuse of discretion or other error by the district court. Accordingly, we AFFIRM the orders and judgments from which the Appellants appeal.

Nature of partnership interest

Sec. 7.01. A partnership interest is personal property. A partner has no interest in specific limited partnership property.

SOURCE AND COMMENT – BAR COMMITTEE

The first sentence of Section 7.01 makes all interests in limited partnerships personal property. It is the same as RULPA § 701 and 6 Del. Code § 17-701 (1985) and is similar in substance to TULPA § 19 (for limited partners' interests) and TUPA § 26 (for general partners' interests).

To the extent that the partnership interest is charged in this manner, the judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the partnership interest.

11 U.S.C. § 101 (41) "person" includes individual, partnership, and corporation, but does not include governmental unit, Provided, however, That any governmental unit that acquires an asset from a person as a result of operation of a loan guarantee agreement, or as receiver or liquidating agent of a person, will be considered a person for purposes of section 1102 of this title.[2]

(2) such entity consents;

(3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;

NO. 14-94-00175-CV

MARTA A. LENTINO, EDUARDO P. LENTINO, AND JORGE A. LENTINO, Appellants

V.

CULLEN CENTER BANK AND TRUST, Appellee

On Appeal from the 269th District Court
Harris County, Texas
Trial Court Cause No. 91-18878

Appellants, Marta A. Lentino, Eduardo P. Lentino, M.D., and Jorge A. Lentino, M.D., appeal from a partial summary judgment and jury verdict in favor of appellee, Cullen Center Bank and Trust. Appellants bring six points of error, contending: (1) the trial court improperly granted appellee's motion for partial summary judgment; and (2) the trial court erred by overruling appellants' motion to modify, correct, or reform the judgment when there was insufficient evidence or no evidence to support the jury's verdict. Appellants also request that in the event this case is reversed and remanded, this Court reverse the awards of prejudgment and postjudgment interest, attorney's fees, costs of court, and several postjudgment orders by the trial court relating to the seizure of appellants' property. We reverse and remand for a trial on the merits.

In November 1982, Eduardo and Jorge Lentino individually executed separate promissory notes for $150,000 to appellee in order to finance their bank stock purchases. Both notes were renewed in November 1983. On December 14, 1984, Eduardo and Jorge Lentino and four other parties, jointly and severally, executed a new promissory note to appellee in the original amount of $2,252,250. Also on that day, Eduardo and Jorge Lentino executed guarantee agreements in favor of Cullen that unconditionally guaranteed payment of the $2,252,250 note. Appellee advanced no additional funds to appellants as consideration for increasing their obligation.

In February 1986, appellee filed individual suits against Jorge and Eduardo Lentino for default on the December 1984 note, which matured on November 30, 1985. In March 1987, both Eduardo and Jorge Lentino entered into separate compromise settlement agreements with appellee. According to the terms of these agreements, Eduardo and Jorge agreed to execute new promissory notes to pay appellee $148,842 and $171,186.29, respectively. The compromise settlement agreements further provided that: (1) appellee would pay Eduardo and Jorge each $10 and release them of their joint and several liability under the 1984 note and guaranty agreements; (2) if Eduardo or Jorge defaulted on their notes, the defaulting party could be liable for the outstanding balance on the original 1984 note; and (3) Eduardo and Jorge waived all affirmative defenses and causes of action relating to the loan documents in the underlying lawsuit.

Both Eduardo and Jorge subsequently defaulted on their 1987 notes, and in 1990, appellee filed separate lawsuits to collect on these notes. The trial court entered final judgments in favor of appellee and awarded actual damages, prejudgment interest, attorneys fees, costs of court, and postjudgment interest. During postjudgment discovery, however, appellee allegedly discovered fraudulent transfers by Jorge, Eduardo and Marta Lentino made during the time the compromise settlement agreements were executed. Appellee subsequently filed this suit, claiming fraud, fraudulent transfers, breach of contract, conspiracy, negligence, and negligent misrepresentation. The appellants responded with a general denial and asserted several affirmative defenses, including usury. The appellants also filed counterclaims alleging usury, slander of title, unreasonable collection efforts, and intentional infliction of emotional distress.

In June 1993, Cullen filed a motion for partial summary judgment, requesting the trial court to hold that the compromise settlement agreements barred appellants' "affirmative causes of action" which relate to the underlying loan documents. Following the appellants' response, appellee filed its reply, clarifying that the compromise settlement agreement barred all of the Lentinos' claims and affirmative defenses. See Stiles v. Resolution Trust Corp., 867 S.W.2d 24, 26 (Tex. 1993) (indicating that specific grounds for summary judgment may be stated in movant's reply in order to comply with rule of civil procedure 166a(c)). The trial court subsequently granted appellee's motion and held the compromise settlement agreements barred all of appellants' causes of action and affirmative defenses.

The parties proceeded to trial and at the close of evidence, the trial court directed a verdict in favor of appellee as to its claims for breach of the compromise settlement agreements. The trial court also rendered judgment on the jury's verdict, which addressed other issues, and awarded $1,817,525.42 in actual damages and $2,500,000 in exemplary damages against each Jorge and Eduardo Lentino, along with attorneys' fees, prejudgment interest, postjudgment interest and costs of court.

In their first point of error, appellants contend the trial court improperly granted appellee's motion for partial summary judgment, in part, because a fact issue exists as to whether the 1984 note was usurious. Appellants argue that if the 1984 note was usurious, the compromise settlement agreements were void because they failed to purge the usury contained in the 1984 note. See Commerce Trust Co. v. Ramp, 138 S.W.2d 531, 534 (Tex. 1940), overruled on other grounds, 561 S.W.2d 777 (Tex. 1977); see also TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 5069-1.02 (Vernon 1987) (stating that all usurious contracts are contrary to public policy); Ferguson v. Tanner Development Co., 541 S.W.2d 483, 493 (Tex. Civ. App. – Houston [1st Dist.] 1976), rev'd on other grounds, 561 S.W.2d 777 (Tex. 1977) (stating that contracts which are contrary to public policy are void). Accordingly, appellants maintain that no summary judgment could be based on a void instrument.

The movant for summary judgment has the burden to show that no genuine issues of material fact exist and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Nixon v. Mr.

Property Management Co., 690 S.W.2d 546, 548-49 (Tex. 1985). In deciding whether there is a disputed material fact issue precluding summary judgment, proof favorable to the non-movant must be taken as true. Id.; O'Bryant v. Century 21 S. Cent. States, 899 S.W.2d 270, 271 (Tex. App. – Houston [14th Dist.] 1995, no writ). Further, we indulge every reasonable inference in favor of the non-movant and resolve any doubts in his favor. O'Bryant, 899 S.W.2d at 271; Edwards v. Garcia-Gregory, 866 S.W.2d 780, 783 (Tex. App. – Houston [14th Dist.] 1993, writ denied). If the movant's motion and summary judgment proof facially establishes his right to judgment as a matter of law, then the burden shifts to the non-movant to raise fact issues precluding summary judgment. See City of Houston v. Clear Creek Basin Auth., 589 S.W.2d 671, 678 (Tex. 1979). Moreover, if the non-movant relies on an affirmative defense to defeat summary judgment, he must present summary judgment proof sufficient to raise a fact issue as to each element of that defense. Brownlee v. Brownlee, 665 S.W.2d 111, 112 (Tex. 1984); see also Wilson v. General Motors Acceptance Corp., 897 S.W.2d 818, 823 (Tex. App. – Houston [1st Dist.] 1994, no writ).

The essential elements of a usurious transaction are: (1) a loan of money; (2) an absolute obligation to repay the principal; and (3) the exaction of a greater compensation than allowed by law for the use of the money by the borrower. First Bank v. Tony's Tortilla Factory, 877 S.W.2d 285, 287 (Tex. 1994); Holley v. Watts, 629 S.W.2d 694, 696 (Tex. 1982); Blasdell v. Catalina, 858 S.W.2d 653, 655 (Tex. App. – Houston [14th Dist.] 1993), rev'd on other grounds, 881 S.W.2d 295 (Tex. 1994). In the present case, neither side disputes that appellee loaned Eduardo and Jorge Lentino only $150,000 each, with obligations to repay the entire amounts. Appellee, however, contends that appellants failed to present sufficient summary judgment proof demonstrating usurious interest.

In support of its argument, appellee relies heavily on Sorrells v. Gilberson, 780 S.W.2d 936, 938 (Tex. App. – Austin 1989, writ denied), which stands for the proposition that a possessor of a promissory note who moves for summary judgment against the maker of the note must present certain proof to establish he is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Specifically, the possessor of a note must either: (1) include the note in the summary judgment proof; or (2) establish the terms of the note by affidavit or other proper summary judgment proof. Id. Appellee now contends that appellants' proof was insufficient to support their usury defense because: (1) the 1982 and 1983 notes were absent from the summary judgment record; and (2) appellants' affidavits failed to state the relevant terms of the 1982 and 1983 notes. See id.

Upon review of the record, however, we find Sorrells to be inapposite. In the present case, appellants were the non-movants, and thus, their only burden was to demonstrate a fact issue as to each element of their usury defense. See Brownlee, 665 S.W.2d at 112. Unlike the movant for summary judgment in Sorrells, appellants were not required to establish conclusively each element of their defense. Accordingly, appellants were not required to show the terms of the notes, such as payment schedule, maturity date, interest rate, default provisions, acceleration terms, and notice, demand and presentment requirements to preclude partial summary judgment. As we discuss below, the proof presented by appellants sufficiently established a fact issue as to the existence of usurious interest. That should have precluded partial summary judgment.

When a lender requires, as a condition to making a loan, that a borrower assume a third party's debt, such debt must be included in the interest computation to determine usury. Alamo Lumber Co. v. Gold, 661 S.W.2d 926, 928 (Tex. 1983). In this case, the summary judgment record shows that as a condition to renew appellants' 1983 notes, appellee required them to sign the 1984 note, making them jointly and severally liable with third parties for $2,252,250. The record also shows that: (1) the 1984 note had a one-year maturity; and (2) appellee did not advance additional funds to appellants other than the original $150,000 loan made in 1982. Thus, although the interest rates on the 1982 and 1983 notes are not in the record, appellants' computed interest on the 1984 note under Alamo Lumber would likely exceed two million dollars for one year, even though appellants never received more than $150,000 from appellee.

Further, the maximum lawful rate of interest for a contract is 24% per annum. TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 5069-1.04(a), (b)(1) (Vernon 1987). Interest rates exceeding the maximum lawful rate are deemed to be usurious. See TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 5069-1.02 (Vernon 1987). Therefore, we find that there is, at least, a fact issue as to whether the 1984 note obligated appellants to pay interest exceeding the maximum lawful rate.[1] See also Catalina v. Blasdel, 881 S.W.2d 295, 296 (Tex. 1994) (stating that usury is a question of fact when not evident from the face of the instrument); Dryden v. City Nat'l Bank of Laredo, 666 S.W.2d 213, 216 (Tex. App. – San Antonio 1984, writ ref'd n.r.e.) (stating that usury, where not apparent from the face of the instrument, is a question of fact for the jury). Appellee, nonetheless, argues that even if a fact issue exists, partial summary judgment was proper because the 1987 compromise settlement agreements released any claims or defenses that the appellants may have had for usury under the 1984 note. We disagree.

A claim or defense of usury may be compromised and released if done in good faith and if the settlement instrument is purged of the usury contained in the underlying note. See Finn v. Alexander, 163 S.W.2d 714, 716 (Tex. 1942); Ramp, 138 S.W.2d at 534. For this to occur, there must be: (1) cancellation of the obligation tainted by the usury; and (2) the creation of a new obligation free of

[1] If we apply the maximum lawful interest rate for contracts, compounded annually for two years, and assume that Eduardo and Jorge Lentino failed to make any payments on their 1982 notes, our calculations show that each would owe appellee $222,000 at the time they signed the 1984 note for $2,250,000. Because the 1984 note had a one year maturity, under Alamo Lumber, the Lentinos' computed interest charge would have been approximately $2,028,000 each for one year. This amount, notwithstanding the interest owed by the Lentinos on the 1984 note itself, clearly exceeds the maximum lawful rate for contracts, and therefore, would be usurious. Although these calculations incorporate certain assumptions, they, nonetheless, illustrate the existence of a fact issue as to appellant's usury defense.

usury. See Southwestern Inv. Co. v. Hockley County S. & D., Inc., 516 S.W.2d 136, 137 (Tex. 1974); Ramp, 138 S.W.2d at 534; O'Quinn v. Beanland, 540 S.W.2d 526, 527 (Tex. Civ. App. – San Antonio 1976, no writ). On the other hand, when the original usurious obligation transcends into the subsequent agreement, such agreement is void and unenforceable. See Ramp, 138 S.W.2d at 535.

Under the terms of the compromise settlement agreement, both Jorge and Eduardo Lentino agreed to execute new promissory notes payable to appellee. In return, appellee paid Jorge and Eduardo $10 each and agreed to release them from their joint and several liability under the 1984 note and guaranty agreements. The agreement also provided, however, that if either Jorge or Eduardo defaulted on their notes, the defaulting party, at appellee's sole option, could be liable for the entire outstanding balance on the 1984 note. Because we find that a fact issue exists as to whether the 1984 note was usurious, we are unable to determine whether the compromise settlement agreement carried forward the usury contained in the 1984 note, and thus, was void and unenforceable. Accordingly, appellants' first point of error is sustained.

In points two through five, appellants attack the legal and factual sufficiency of the evidence as it relates to their alleged breaches of the compromise settlement agreements. However, given our disposition of appellants' first point, we need not address the merits of these issues.

In their sixth point of error, appellants request that, in the event this case is reversed and remanded, this Court reverse the awards of prejudgment and postjudgment interest, attorney's fees, costs of court, and several post judgment orders by the trial court relating to the seizure of appellants' property. We decline their request and reverse and remand this case for a trial on the merits.
